Leisure Woman, Who Has Been Fugitive for Nearly a Year, in Jail Awaiting Sentence

CONVICTED OCT. 22, 1923

On Pretext That She Wanted To Change Clothes, Woman Attempts Getaway Again

Mamie Wee Leisure, who has been a fugitive from justice for nearly a year, is back in jail, waiting her sentence to prison, following her capture Friday by officers who visited her home, and found her hidden beneath the floor.

The woman was tried in the circuit court here, October 22, 1923, and was charged with her brother, Allan Wee and Edward Cox, with encouraging delinquency on a young girl. The brother disappeared before the trial, and the woman and Cox stood trial before a jury. The jury convicted them, and gave them a sentence of 180 days.

The court gave them permission to go for a few days before passing the sentence, and on the morning of the appointed day, the woman disappeared, but Cox appeared and has served his term.

Officers made frequent trips to the residence this summer, after having been told that she was seen about the house. The house is located along the mill race back of the I & C. power plant. All attempts to find her failed, and the same report came in yesterday.

Chief of police Blackburn, Patrolman Havens and Frank Nicholson went to the place, and she came to the door when they knocked. She shut the door and said she was going to change clothes. In the meantime, the officers guarded the house on the outside, and one of them pried open a window and went inside.

She had mysteriously disappeared, according to the police, who looked everywhere about the house, and could not find her, but they knew she had not left.

A search for a trap door, revealed one near a bed, and Frank Nicholson went down through the hole and forced her to come out of hiding. She was then placed in jail and will probably be sentenced either late today or Monday by Judge Sparks.

Her brother, Allan Wee, who disappeared before the trial, is now serving a life sentence at the state prison, having been convicted in Richmond a few weeks ago on a similar charge.

SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE FOR TEACHERS MEETING

Rushville City Teachers to Attend, But Not Many of Townships Schools Will Close

OFFICIAL PROGRAMS READY

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Eight hundred children will take part in a Physical training exhibition at the meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' Association here Oct. 16 to 18, it was announced today.

The exhibition will be given under the auspices of the physical education department of the Indianapolis public schools.

Complete and official programs have been completed by C. O. Williams, secretary of the association, for the meeting. General sessions begin Thursday night at Cadle Tabernacle, preceding by parent-teacher meetings three days previously. The business session will be held Friday.

The Rushville public schools will be closed next Thursday and Friday to enable the teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers association.

It is not expected that many of the schools outside of Rushville will be dismissed because the county board of education decided at its October meeting that the question of closing the schools for two days was a matter for each township trustee to settle for himself.

DEMONSTRATION ON MONDAY

Fire Pumps will be Put in Use to Show Their Value

The demonstration with the fire pumps, as a part of the delayed program for fire prevention week, will be made Monday morning, according to Joe Williamson, fire chief. The steam pump will be placed at the foot of Morgan street on the bank of the race, and it will pump water to the Seagraves pumper. In this way the water will be relayed, and people will be shown the value of having two or more pumping outfits in order to reach a fire at a long range from the mill race, and have a big pressure at the fire.

The exhibition will start about 9 o'clock Monday morning, according to present plans.

RAT KILLING SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Mayor Thomas Sets Aside October 11 to 18 For Campaign Under Young Woman's Auspices

AUTHORIZED BY U. S. BUREAU

Miss Helen Caldwell Plans to Canvass City and Does Work of Extermination Herself

Mayor Walter R. Thomas today issued a proclamation, designating October 11 to 18 as "Rat Killing Week" in Rushville and urging the citizens of the community to co-operate with Miss Helen Caldwell of Huntington W. Va., in her campaign to rid the city of rats. Miss Caldwell began the work of planning the campaign today and hopes to start the actual task of baiting buildings tonight.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, it is estimated that a city the size of Rushville has approximately 12,000 rats, and that each rat costs the taxpayers the sum of $1.82 per year, making a total annual bill due to their presence in our city of $21,840 and

"Whereas the agricultural department of the United States has promulgated and recommended a plan for rat extermination as demonstrated by Miss Helen Caldwell

"Now, therefore I, Mayor Walter R. Thomas of the city of Rushville Indiana, do hereby set aside a period of seven (7) days from October 11 to October 18, 1924, to be observed as rat killing days and request that the citizens co-operate in the observance of these days by use of barium carbonate or other means of effectually destroying these pests and saving ourselves the large amount which their depreciations cost us each year"

Dr. E. L. Wooden, city health commissioner, also has endorsed the plan of Miss Caldwell, and has issued a statement asking people to co-operate with her.

She started out this morning in the business district, and by the middle of next week, she will have made a complete canvass and expects to meet with much success in killing the rats in this city.

She does the work alone and distributes literature to persons who wish to continue the work after she has left.

SHENANDOAH DAMAGED

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 11—Damage to the Shenandoah incurred while landing at North Island last night, may delay the northern flight, the big dirigible several days, naval air staff officials announced here today. In trying to make a landing, the tail of the craft touched the ground first, forcing several starts of the rear control car into the rigid envelope.

LOOK WHO'S HERE!

Gings high school basketball team went down in defeat Friday afternoon on their home court, when the Orange basketball five won the game by the score of 29 to 24. This was the first game of the season for Orange, and the second one for Gings, the latter having played their first game one week ago Friday afternoon. The game was played on an open air court.

REPUBLICANS PLAN TO HEAR C. E. HUGHES

Delegation Going to Indianapolis Monday Night for Address—Democrats in Indianapolis

DAVIS TO SPEAK TONIGHT

A number of republicans are planning to go to Indianapolis Monday evening to hear Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, deliver a political address at the Cadle tabernacle.

The announcement that Mr. Hughes would speak was received here today and an urgent request sent for a large delegation from Rushville. Mr. Hughes is making only a limited number of speeches during the campaign.

It is expected that a number will go, as campaign speeches in Rushville will be few and far between. A meeting to be addressed by Ed Jackson, republican nominee for governor, and an address by Senator James E. Watson, the afternoon of the day before election at the Memorial park coliseum.

An exodus of democrats to Indianapolis this afternoon was predicted to hear John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, who speaks there tonight. He will speak in a number of Indiana cities.

COLLAR BONE IS BROKEN

Mrs. Richard Coers Injured in Automobile Accident

Mrs. Richard Coers, of the Waldron community, suffered a broken collar bone in an auto accident Thursday evening at a cross roads, near the McCauley school, three miles north of Waldron. The Coers machine figured in the collision with an auto driven by a man from Indianapolis, whose name was not learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Coers, with two other occupants in their car, were driving east on one road and the other auto was being driven north on the other road. Neither of the drivers were aware of the other's presence. The driver of the Indianapolis car suffered slight injuries to his head.

Mrs. Coers was taken to the home of Clem Severs, near the scene of the accident.

FLIGHT POSTPONED

REVALUATION OF LAND PROBABLE

John J. Brown, Chairman of State Tax Board, Says Real Estate May be Reassessed

FARMS WILL SHOW A LOSS

Decrease of $600,000,000 in Taxable Values Expected—Increase of $300,000,000 in Cities

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—It is probably that there would be a revaluation made on real estate in Indiana in 1925, John J. Brown, chairman of the state tax board, announced today.

This will be the first valuation made since 1922. It was indicated by some familiar with taxing conditions that the valuation of farm lands would show a decrease of approximately $600,000,000 below the figure for 1922 and that urban real estate would show an increase of approximately $300,000,000.

The net value of real estate in the 1922 assessment was $3,669,148,035.

Brown said if a valuation were made that farm values would probably show a decrease and the value of real estate within cities would be increased. Of course, he said, some farms at the last assessment were appraised too high and some too low and value of these would have to be increased or decreased accordingly.

Industrial expansion and business expansion has had a tendency to increase the value of real estate within the cities, he said.

It was indicated that if there was a new valuation made next year the board would begin gathering data preliminary to it at the time the fourth quarterly session ends some time the latter part of December. Assessors would make the appraisements but they would have to receive instructions from the board as to how to proceed before they would start in on their work.

Brown said the board had not set rules as to how to make a basis for the valuations. An appraiser is sometimes made on the selling value of the property, sometimes on the income from the property or on some condition that applies only in the individual peace of land or improvement.

QUARTERLY MEETING

The first quarterly meeting of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church will be held Sunday, November 2. Services are held at the church every Sunday.

TWO ARRESTS MADE IN STECH'S COURT

FORMER SETTLES CHARGE

Two arrests have been made in Justice Stech's court, one being an affidavit charging George Solomon with issuing a fraudulent check and the other against W. Everett Swain of Milroy, charged with assault and battery.

In the check case, the affidavit charges him with giving Walter Marshall of Blue Ridge a check without funds. When the warrant was served on him late yesterday by Frank Nicholson, constable, a settlement was made with another check, and judgment will be withheld if satisfactory to the parties.

In the other case against Mr. Swain of Milroy, the prosecuting witness is Tone Tompkins. Both are aged men and the affidavit was filed following a recent controversy. He was to appear sometime today and enter a plea.

Andrew Jackson is plaintiff in a suit against Cliff Brown, the action being on an account involving seed corn, and the demand is for $35. The case will be heard October 15, at 9 o'clock.

WIGGINS TO MAKE THIRD PLEA

Boxer to Try Again to Get out of Indiana Reformatory

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Charles E. "Chuck" Wiggins, professional boxer, will present his third plea in three years to the state pardon board Monday for his release from the Indiana Reformatory when he is serving time for escaping from the state farm.

This was announced today by Louis Brown, bondsman in the Indianapolis city court and brother-in-law of Wiggins who will present the argument. Wiggins was sentenced to the farm for contributing to the delinquency of a girl who lacked twenty days of being eighteen, the delinquency age limit, according to her testimony. Brown now has an affidavit from the woman that she was twenty at the time.

Wiggins was a trusty at the farm and had only a short time to serve when his alleged escape was made.

FINED FOR ASSAULT ON MAN

Nancy Hodgens, Colored, Retaliates With Charge Against Heaton

Nancy Hodgens was arraigned in police court Friday afternoon on a charge of provoke, preferred by Sanford Heaton, aged retired farmer, and she was found guilty and fined $1 and costs. In turn, she filed a similar charge against Heaton, and he will be tried next Wednesday.

The charge against the woman was preferred as the result of an alleged attack on Heaton last Saturday night, when he said three colored women crowded him, and one woman struck him with a broom.

AERIAL CIRCUS FLYER KILLED

R. E. Extiere, 27, Loses Life When Plane Crashes to Ground One Mile West of Brookville

AERIAL CIRCUS IS CALLED OFF

Pilot Loses Control of Plane While Flying Over West Fork of White-Water River

Brookville, Ind., Oct. 11—R. E. Extiere, age 27, stunt flyer with an aerial circus company, was killed instantly when the plane in which he was riding fell 250 feet to the ground at the flying field one mile west of Brookville at noon Friday. His neck was broken when the plane struck the ground. The pilot, Albert Hunter, was critically injured but may recover.

The crash occurred when the pilot lost control while flying over the west fork of the Whitewater river. Air conditions were said to be the cause. The plane was wrecked.

Extiere has been flying since he was 18 years old. He joined the circus aviation group at St. Louis three years ago and attended the air races at Dayton, Ohio.

The aviators came to Brookville last Sunday afternoon with three planes. They have been carrying passengers for an aerial circus to be staged today. Extiere was to do the principal flying stunts. The circus was called off.

One of the planes was not in good working condition and had been taken away for repairs before the accident occurred. Extiere and three other flyers were to take part in the circus with the two remaining planes.

Extiere's mother, Mrs. Effie Extiere, a widow, resides in Freeport, Illinois. Extiere was born in Texas.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. His mother has been informed of the accident.

Members of the group of aviators, in addition to Extiere and Hunter, are two brothers of the latter, Bud Gurney and Herbert Budd.

It is understood that Extiere's wife resides in Dalton, Texas.

SPECIAL JUDGE ON BENCH

Hears Evidence This Morning in Fleechart Divorce Case

The divorce suit of Carrie Fleechart against Fred Fleechart was being heard today in the circuit court before Gates Ketchum, special judge and the action was being contested by the defendant.

The jury has been called for service Monday when the case of the First State bank of Newport against Frank R. Hale and others, will be tried. The suit is to collect $1,750 on a note, and was sent here from Shelby county on a change of venue.

Among the new suits filed is a complaint by Lena Benson against Wilbur Gordon and others, the action being on a note, demanding $129.87.

OFFICIALS FROM ONTARIO IN CITY

Rushville Had Some Distinguished Visitors, But no One Knew They Were Here

TOURING STATE HIGHWAYS

Trying to Get a Close-Up on how Indiana Builds and Maintains Roads to Meet Traffic Demands

Rushville had some distinguished visitors for a short time this week, but no one knew it until they had departed. They were official representatives of the Canadian government touring Indiana state roads to get a close-up on how this state builds and maintains highways to meet the demand for overland transportation.

The Canadian party was composed of Hon. F. G. Macdonald, who was minister of public works and highways until 1919; T. J. Mahoney, M. P.; A. N. Rankin, M. P., and T. M. Smith, M. P., and was sent by their government to obtain information as to the manner of road payment and management prevailing in a number of places in the United States. They elected to visit Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin as representatives of this nation.

The visitors are gathering data of a varied nature which they expect to set out in a detailed report to their government. They are traveling in a government car, and while in Indiana were shown all types of construction and maintenance and cost thereof. Their inspection led over the National Road to Dunshire, hence on 36 via Rushville to Greensburg and down to Madison on No. 1. They stopped one night at Cliff Falls State Park and marvelled at the work being done there by the state conservation department. New Albany and Jeffersonville was next on their itinerary and they returned to Indianapolis via Bedford, Bloomington and Martinsville. On the trip to Chicago, from where they go to Wisconsin, they inspected Indiana roads in Marion, Hamilton, Tipton, Howard, Clinton, Tippecanoe, Benton, Jasper, Porter, and Lake counties. A. H. Hinkle, state highway maintenance superintendent, accompanied the party on their tour through Wisconsin.

In the opinion of Canadian highway officials, trees not only beautify but protect a highway, so an intensive roadside tree planting campaign is on. The government pays the farmers $12.25 for each tree up and line both sides of the highway.

The visitors said their department uses practically the same equipment as Indiana, and pays its employees (Continued on Page Five)

JEMP C. NORRIS SUED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

Alleged he Paid Himself $325 More Money Than he Was Entitled to as Trustee

HIS BONDSMEN ARE NAMED

Demp C. Norris of Orange, former trustee of Orange township in Fayette county, has been sued with five of his bondsmen by attorney general, U. S. Lesh in the Fayette circuit court. The demand is for $400 judgment.

The attorney general alleges Norris, as trustee, issued warrants to himself for $325 more money than he was legally entitled to receive. According to the complaint the defendant was entitled to $600 as annual salary, $60 as office rental and $125 for miscellaneous expenses, totaling $785. Warrants issued, however, totaled $1110, it is alleged.

The sum of $325 was wrongfully received and retained, according to the complaint. Reports of the state examiners showed that the former trustee had received too much money and that he had failed to return it to the township, the complaint sets out.

Others defendants named in the complaint are Frank L. Coletrane, George H. Horton, Omer Hadley, Lewis Matney and George E. Heizer, bondsmen. Norris was elected trustee in 1918 and served four years.

VOTERS TAKING INTEREST

Heavy Registration of This Year is Evidence of Increased Interest

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—The heavy registration this year is evidence of the intense interest voters are taking in the present state campaign, according to Russell Ryan,
Democratic chairman of Marion county.

Although a part of the increased registration for 20,000 in the county is due to the increase in population, political headquarters of both parties see in the total registration of 191,944 in Marion county an unusual interest in the issues of the campaign.

Reports indicate the same increase in the counties where a full registration was held, while in those counties where only the new voters were required to register there was unusual activity in getting all eligibles out.

A record vote in the November election is predicted on the basis of the registration figures.

diana-Louisiana university football game.

—Mrs. Arthur Burgdoerfer and little daughter Lois Jean returned to her home in Connersville today, after spending the week in this city with relatives.

—Mrs. Alva Webb, Miss Hattie
Emmons and Howard Dillard spent Friday in Indianapolis visiting the latter's sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. McFarlin. Mrs. McFarlin is re-

Can't Kick

George Fisher, 75, wealthy farmer of Falls City, Neb., didn't want his children fighting over his estate after his death. He called all five together and staged a little lottery. Everybody got something—but the choicest piece of land went to the eldest, Mrs.
George Pritchard (above) of Abeline,
Kas., when she drew the lucky number from her father's hat. Her land is worth $50,000.

Movies

Lots of Atmosphere

Atmosphere of the most picturesque nature is abundant in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the Sawyer-Lubin production for Metro, which is at the Princess Theatre again today. The great background of the Yukon, of course, plays a big part, but the opening scenes of the picture offer still more novelty in scene.

This section of the film is laid in the South Sea Isles, and shows the cabin of an old tramp steamer which has been turned into a cabaret by the stranded theatrical troupe of which Lou, as played by Barbara La Marr, is one of the leading members. The interior of the vessel presents a wild, exotic scene, with half-naked natives, gamblers, dancing girls, and adventurers of all types.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was directed by Clarence Badger and personally supervised by Arthur H. Sawyer. Winifred Dunn wrote the scenario.

Nothing to Offer

That the third party movement, headed by LaFollette, has not made any progress during the past two weeks is due, no doubt, to the fact that the voters of the country have awakened to the fact that the third party has nothing to offer the people of the nation except the beginning of the destruction of all that the citizens of the country hold dear.

There is no doubt that those who love their country will this year cast a record vote. Individuals are not going to leave to chance the settling of this most important question. They are not going to take for granted that the other fellow is going to vote; they are going to vote themselves. They are going to put down once and for all a movement that would ultimately lead to a condition similar to that existing in Russia today, for there is a marked resemblance between the Soviet government and the things that the Socialistic ticket party candidate stands for.

It is believed by many that LaFollette is being given moral, if not other aid, by Trotsky and his followers. The women of the United States will never vote for a condition where a husband may secure a divorce for the trifling sum of three rubles and no cause. This strikes at the women and children of the country. Christian people don't live that way; neither do the men of the nation believe in that kind of government.

platform discloses the fact that it would take away from the people their protection in the courts. It would buy public ownership of railroads, which would mean over 3,000,000 additional office holders, the salaries of which the people of the country would have to pay in the shape of greatly increased taxes. That would be but the beginning of a material increase in the tax burden.

Our tax problem alone is sufficient reason for every citizen of voting age to exercise his judgment of public officials by casting a ballot on election day. Lowering of the cost of government, thus making possible successive tax cuts, is the surest means of relief for the voter and his family. Officials who can show a record of drastic economy should be continued in office. Those who cannot show reductions in expenditure should be displaced by others who will agree to a cutting of costs. But economy is assured only through the voters of the taxpayers.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1909

The Rushville high school football team is practicing diligently every evening when the weather permits to get in condition for the game with the Richmond high school team Saturday at Richmond.

Gilbert Meredith and son Tom of this city are in the storm swept district, near Key West, and Mrs. Meredith spent a very anxious day hoping to hear something from them.

Somebody will be nominated tonight. It seems that it will be one of two men—W. O. Headlee, who has been a candidate for several months or John M. Stevens, whose name was just brought into the field yesterday.

Mr. Clair Maple has resigned his position as engineer with Mr. O. L. Nichols. (Glenwood correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reed attended the reception of Mr. and Mrs. William Dickey at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickey at Fortville, Ind. (Glenwood correspondent.)

The reports came this week that Edgar Maple, John Walker and Glenn Stevens, who left last week for Seattle, Washington, have arrived there safe. (Neff's Corner)

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Moore entertained at dinner today at their home in East Sixth street, celebrating Mr. Moore's fifty-first birthday anniversary and also honored Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moore, who were recently married.

A merry party composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Aelin Riggs of Cincinnati, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clore and little daughter, Mary Frances, were entertained on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Morris of Gings station.

An eight pound boy was born to the wife of Bert Matlock in North Jackson street Sunday afternoon.

Fred Osborn left Sunday morning for Boise City, Iowa, with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boyd and sons Paul and Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. Chase Boyd and son and Mrs. John Pattison of Comersville.

Mrs. A. C. Haskett, Miss Iva Daubenspeck and Mrs. J. P. Smith of Maury left yesterday to attend the Christian church centennial at Pittsburg, Pa.

Edwin Kelly resumed his duties at Johnson's drug store yesterday, after taking a short vacation.

The Hodge - Podge

By a Paraphraser with a Soul

There is some dispute about which political party caused the post-bellum deflation, but we are all agreed that somebody let the gas out of the war gas bag.

The seeds of discontent never raise a profitable crop.

Every man should have enough religion to enable him to quarrel about it.

The only difference between summer silk hose and winter silk hose is that winter hose are thinner.

Ranking with a good five-cent cigar as a world need is a good high top shoe in place of the oxfords that fashion insists we shall wear all winter.

A college professor says the world is ten billion years old. And it still has a lot to learn.

Rude men always hide behind the excuse that they are practical.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new explanation of how Washington came to win the American League baseball championship emanates from Republican national headquarters.

The strength of the team and the prowess of its individual players, while they may have contributed something to the result, were not, it seems the controlling factor. According to these G O P adherents "Coolidge luck" is to be credited with having brought the pennant to Washington.

Seemingly it was the spirit mysteriously instilled into the team by the way Cal threw out the ball on the opening game of the season that put it on its toes and enabled it to play championship ball. Coolidge (rather than "Bucky" Harris, the National's manager, should be recognized by royal fans as the real great gazabo of the national game.

INVERSELY, it is claimed that the National's victory through "Coolidge luck" is also another stroke of luck for Coolidge.

By giving the president the chance to welcome the victorious team back to the capital, it gave him the chance to make the best speech of his career and one which probably was more widely read than any political utterance he ever made.

It gave him the chance to throw out the first ball in the opening game of the world series getting him bigger headlines and more publicity than any other single event of the campaign. That chance to have the center of the stage in the opening of the world series is an advantage which nothing Davis or LaFollette can do can equal. By putting him in the picture as the "First Fan" it endears him to many thousands who are fans first, voters afterward.

AT least that's the way the Coolidges in the capital figure it. They also maintain that Coolidge's speech of welcome to the returning ball team refutes all previous claim that he is lacking in a sense of humor, that he is no sport and that he is merely a cool unemotional intellectual machine.

Certainly the president attempted a lighter touch in his speech of welcome than is usual with him. He even joked a bit or attempted it, which was almost unheard of. If his humor lacked punch it was perhaps due to his inexperience in turning a funny phrase, for certainly it was evident that he was trying to jazz the situation within the limits of presidential dignity and decorum.

COOLIDGE welcomed the team "as the head of an enterprise which conducts some business" and maintains a considerable staff in this town. He said that he had hopes that with the conclusion of the world series "the people of Washington may gradually resume interest in the ordinary concerns of life."

So disrupted had government workers become during the closing weeks of the baseball season, when Washington was still uncertain of the pennant, the president said that "I contemplated action of a vigorously disciplinary character."

And he praised as "a correct constructive and statesmanlike program" the suggestion of Congressman John F. Miller of Seattle that a special session of Congress be convened at once in order that congressmen would have an excuse to be in Washington at the time of the world series.

It is no exaggeration to say that the business of government has been sorely handicapped by the Washington baseball victory. Coolidge spoke more in truth than in jest when he said that "The town has been simply base ball crazy since about Sept. 15. From Coolidge down, the pennant race has held the center of interest for officials and workers. The election result, except for Coolidge, will not be half so important."

THE REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Being Random Observations Picked Up During the Week by the Inquisitive Reporter in His Rounds About Town.

Mixing His Poultry

A little boy started to school for the first time this fall and he was as proud as a peacock when he learned to spell a word.

"Oh, mother," he cried as he came home with the good news, "I know how to spell chicken."

"You do?" said the proud mother.

"Well now how do you spell it?"

"H-e-n" answered the youngster proudly, as his chest expanded several inches.

Too Much Pie-dough

One Sunday morning a Rushville mother was very much worried because her little girl did not come home immediately after Sunday school. Finally, she arrived about noon.

"Where have you been?" asked anxious mother.

"I stayed for church," she answered.

"And did you eat nice?"

"Yes, but I got too much pie-dough."

Literally Speaking

A Rushville boy was motoring home from a Michigan lake where he had been for several weeks, and stopped with friends accompanying him at a town enroute for some refreshments.

He has a tantalizing desire to try something different. He saw a sign, "Try a September Morn" and he ordered one.

The waiter brought him a plain dish of ice cream.

"I didn't order that," the boy explained, "I want a 'September Morn.'"

"That's what you got," she said. "Nothing on it."

Broadcasting

If you are called to the telephone some night and asked to "listen in" on a radio concert just imagine that it might be something that happened not long ago when several people had such an experience.

"This is station XYZ, broadcasting a concert by the bland orchestra" said a voice at the other end of the line, and the people on the telephone got real interested.

If they could have seen as far as the other end of the line, they would have discovered that a phonograph, operated by a crowd of high school boys, was grinding out some of the late popular dance records.

of stopping off in Kansas City for a visit with their good friends, Tom Cauley and family, at one time residents of Rushville.

Instead of checking their baggage at the station, while they went out to Cauley's house during the two-hour stopover, they chartered a truck and went, bag and baggage, to the home of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Cauley were somewhat alarmed at the prospect of a long visit when they saw trunks and everything being unloaded on their front porch, but they soon learned that it was only one way the Italian shoe cobbler had of expressing his delight at seeing them.

HARD AND BITTER BATTLES ON BILL

Many Gridiron Conflicts Scheduled
For Today in Which Indiana
Teams Figure

WABASH AT NOTRE DAME

With Four Stars on Sidelines, Little
Giants are not Hopeful—Butler
Meets Illinois

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Hard and bitter battles were to be the order of the day in Indiana today as the football season went into its third week.

Some of the teams went into the fields crippled and short of men, others went in with the hope of great glory, while still others with uncertain strength depended on the outcome of the day to determine their standing in the grid field.

The teams are to be lined up as follows:

Indiana against Louisiana at Indianapolis. Illinois against Butler at Illinois.

Notre Dame against Wabash at South Bend.

Purdue against Rose Poly at Lafayette.

DePauw against Hanover at Greencastle.

Valparaiso against Albion at Valparaiso.

Great would be the glory for the Wabash eleven if they could repeat their victory over the Irish which they won back in 1905. But Coach

Rockne has unlimited man-power to draw upon and is training them for such teams as the Army, Princeton, and Nebraska.

But, although the little Giants will be on the defensive, their attacks are to be respected. Coach Vaughn arrived at South Bend with a squad of thirty men. Throughout the week he has been teaching his men individually the tactics of the Irish coach. Jack Singleton, star halfback; Captain Staples, Johnson, and Cords, of the Wabash team will have to sit at the sidelines during the game because of injuries. The game will be a test for the Notre Dame ends and the Wabash men have a sweeping interference that may be an important factor if permitted to be tried.

The Butler Bull Dogs bared their teeth to revenge their defeat last year from the Illini. They went over to Urbana to play the team that is said to be the best team in the Big Ten. They left here Thursday and held practice on the field at Urbana to become accustomed to the ground when the game starts. Many veterans have been retained in the Illinois camp. They have not only Grange who made all the running last year, and Britton who is showing up in the backfield in good shape. Indications pointed to the certainty that Purdue would walk over the Rose Poly eleven. The team that was rolling on by Indiana two weeks ago had to complete its lineup with three freshmen. The men have long study hours and school and have short hours for training. Coach Clark arrived at Lafayette with only sixteen men in uniform.

On the other hand, the Boiler Makers are considered by some to have the second best team in the state. Their defeat from Ohio state last week was caused from a lack of re-

Why Washington Won

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 11—Washington's victory in the American League pennant race was one of the most popular ever scored in major league baseball. The club was a hot favorite as soon as it began to appear that the Senators had a chance to win the pennant, and the support that was shouted at the players all around the circuit had much to do in keeping the team in good spirits.

Walter Johnson said that the encouragement the team found in the realization that the fans in every city wanted them to beat out the Yankees serves but Coach Phelan since has been getting rid of that weakness.

It is the view of Coach Ingram that the game with the team from Louisiana would end with a close score. Although the southerners' line outweighs that of the Hoosiers the Indiana backfield is heavier. In Coach Ingram's aggregation Temp Smith, quarterback has removed scholastic barriers between him and eligibility and is back on the team. George Fisher has recovered from injuries early this season and is back in right position.

IOWA ELEVEN HAS HAD NO FAIR ABILITY TEST

Rash to Make any Predictions as to Outcome of Football Season Now,
Says Football Coach

OHIO GAME IS REAL TEST

By BERT INGWERSEN
(Football Coach University Iowa)
(Written for United Press)

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11—I believe that it is rash to make any predictions as to the outcome of the 1924 football season at this time. The Iowa eleven has had no fair test of its ability.

The game with Ohio State today will be a real test of the Iowa eleven. It is one of the stiffest battles of the season. Predictions as to the Big Ten will be easier to make after that game.

Iowa faces this season some of the strongest elevens in the conference, Ohio State, Wisconsin, Illinois Michigan and Minnesota. But Iowa will fight the best of them and the only time a team can be sure of winning a championship is after the shooting is all over and the winning pennant is safely at the top of the flag pole.

was one of the biggest factors that contributed to their success. The team certainly did win on spirit, and if the Yankees had been on their toes and fighting all the way, Washington might not have gotten into the world's series.

Buck Harris, the 27-year-old manager, never let his head droop and he spread the same spirit among the whole team. It is interesting now to recall what Harris said when he was asked by the United Press to make a statement on what chances his team had to win the pennant.

The club was in Cleveland for a most important series. Harris replied in a telegram to New York, the first paragraph of which read: "Washington has the best chance of winning the pennant race. No team in the league is fighting so hard for the flag. There is no suggestion of defeat from Walter Johnson down to the youngest rookie. We are going to win! That's all there is to it."

There is a sermon in that last line and if you are looking around for a reason why the team upset all calculations and won the pennant, look over that line and give it a little study.

Also look over the last paragraph of the statement which read:

"Walter Johnson will pitch the opening game of the world's series if our arms and legs and back and brains hold out. The Washington players are giving all they have every day to win. That spirit cannot be beaten."

Which recalls that famous war slogan which was hung on the dressing room wall at Princeton and which inspired a very ordinary football team to go out and win a championship. The sign hung up by Coach Bill Roper was: "A team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

on virtually the same scale of wages. They favor hard surface highways in view of eliminating dust which they charge discourages tourist traffic. They frankly admitted that Canada is going after the tourists trade which annually brings millions of dollars into the Dominion. Establishment of a gas tax is practically certain, they think, and in this way export users of roads to pay for construction and maintenance; also the tourist to stand a proportionate cost.

MAKES MIAMI TEAM

Howard Kendall, a student of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, is a member of the Miami football team, and will play in the game today with the team against the Kenyon eleven.

THE DAMPER BACK OF THE FIRE POT PREVENTS PUFFING from the burning of soft coal or slack, and throwing soot and dirt out in your room, because it burns the gases that cause the explosion. ### OHIO STATE MEETS IOWA IN BIG GAME

Most Important Football Game in
Big Ten to be Played Today at
Iowa City, Iowa

BUCKEYES ARE FAVORITES

Chicago, Oct. 11—Ohio State, former champions of the midwestern football conference, meets Iowa, another recent title holder, in the most important Big Ten game today. It is to be played at Iowa City.

By virtue of its 7 to 0 victory over Purdue last Saturday and because Iowa's strength is unknown, the Buckeyes were slight favorites, but it was admitted the Iowa crew might meet Ohio's aerial attack with something equally good. The Hawkeyes have been training their defense for the Iowa forward passing game.

None of the other contests in the mid-west this week end are between conference rivals, the other Big Ten teams taking on "outside" elevens.

Brown comes to Chicago to meet Coach Stagg's Maroons in the first inter-sectional game of the season.

Minnesota meets the Haskell Indians at Minneapolis. Michigan takes on Michigan Aggies at Lansing; Illinois engages Butler at Urbana; Wisconsin faces Coe at Madison; Northwestern stands off the invasion of the University of Cincinnati; Louisiana comes to Indianapolis to meet Indiana; and Purdue engages Rose Poly-Tech at Lafayette.

Notre Dame, most powerful non-conference team, has a game scheduled with Wabash to be played at South Bend.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Her Suffering and Restored Her Health

Momence, Illinois.—"I surely can recommend your medicine to other women who have female weakness, as it has helped me very much in every way possible. I was working in a dining room in town, and sometimes I could not do my work; had pains in the lower part of my body and had to stay in bed. One of my neighbors told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and it has surely done wonders for me. I hope all women who suffer will take my advice as the Vegetable Compound has done so much to bring back my vigor and strength."—Mrs. ALBERT E. DESCHAUD, Momence, Illinois.

Over 121,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent. of these replies answer "Yes."

That is 58 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The Willing Workers of the Orange Christian church held an all day meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carrie Clifford, north of Orange. At the noon hour a cafeteria dinner was served and the members spent the day sewing and finishing up for the bazaar the Workers are planning to have the latter part of November.

"Social Life During the Middle Ages", was the subject discussed at the meeting of the Delphian Society held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Fisher in West Third street. Mrs. Cullen Sexton was the leader of the program and gave a paper on "Chivalry." Other talks were given as follows: "Feudalism", Mrs. Lyle Carter; "St. Francis of Assisi", and "The Effect of the Crusades Upon Social Life", Miss Brenda Kinsinger; "Character Sketches of This Period," Mrs. Will Abercrombie. It was decided at this meeting that the remainder of the club meetings will be held at the Lollis Hotel, beginning with the next meeting date.

The Priscilla Art and Literary Club of Palmyra was delightfully entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Curtiss Scholl. The program opened with roll call responses on quotations from Riley. Mrs. Opal Dickey gave a sketch of his life followed by current events. Mrs. Howard Kehl gave a reading "That Old Sweetheart of Mine". During the business session plans were made for the Halloween party to be given at the home of Mrs. Russell Baker, October 23. Two visitors, Mrs. W. S. Saxon and Mrs. Charles Dolan, were present for the meeting. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess as the closing feature of the meeting.

A number of relatives and friends delightfully surprised Mrs. Will Morgan Friday evening at her home south of the city, with a pitch-in supper, honoring her birthday anniversary. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morgan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan of Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ryse and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Carthage, Albert Hasty of Milroy, Mrs. Fanny Young of Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Loyd, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hasty and family, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Willis and family, A. GINGS SCHOOL

BASKETBALL
Rah! for Gings. A good beginning means a lot and G. H. S. in her first game last Friday downed Center to the tune of 26 to 20. The game started off with a bang and continued to be a close race during the remainder of the game.

The lineup and summary:
Ging 26 Center 20
Rees ----- F ----- D. Brown
A. Echart ----- F ----- E. Powers
McCulloch ----- C ----- Land
Pratt ----- G ----- Young
Meyer ----- G ----- Benner
Field goals: Rees 3, McCulloch 9, Meyer 2, Powers, E. Powers 2, Land 6. Foul goals: D. Brown, E. Powers. Substitutions: T. Powers, R. Brown, Demmit.

The Gings team played th Orange team the 10th and a good game was expected.

PENNY SUPPER

Our penny supper was a great success. A large crowd was in attendance and the total amount taken in was $121.09, this making the net proceeds $56.77. Other than penny supper eats, there were ice cream and watermelons. The "Inter Nos" Latin club sold all kinds of fancy chocolate candy and the basketball boys had two museums arranged upstairs which afforded much amusement. We wish to thank the patrons for their donations and all others who attended and helped to make our penny supper a success.

CLASS WORK

The Eighth grade has been having experiment work in their general science class the last week and the high school geography class are soon going to begin on experiments. The Sophomore and Junior history class have been studying about Alexander and they are now making maps of Greece, showing the route of Alexander when attempting his world conquest.

MUSIC

A great music spirit is being aroused at school this year under our county supervisor, Miss Piersol. Also work has begun on the music memory contest and eight records have thus far been played. Last Tuesday night "Music Evening" was observed at school for the patrons. A short musical program was rendered by each of the sections under the direction of the teachers. At the close Miss Piersol conducted a "song fest".

CENTER SCHOOL

The biology class is now studying "The Cycle of Life" This class does laboratory work two days a week. The thirty members of the general history class have been studying famous Athenians who lived in the age of Pericles.

Members of the English classes have been very busy with their "outside reading" book reports. Several of the pupils have already made all of their reports for this semester.

The boys basketball team played a very interesting game at Gings Friday Oct. 3. The score was 26-20 in Gings's favor.

The girls team practiced in the Raleigh "gym" Tuesday and Wednesday after school.

George Traitt gave a very interesting report on the "People and Customs of Hawaii" for opening exercises Thursday morning.

Raymond Burton met with a very painful accident Thursday, when he was hit in the eye by a baseball.

NEW SALEM

SOCIAL ITEMS

The Parent and Teacher Association met Tuesday afternoon at the school building. This meeting included a celebration of Riley's birthday and Fire Prevention Week. The program was composed of several well spoken poems of James Whitecomb Riley given by the grades and a very interesting talk on Fire Prevention by Mr. Farthing. Musical numbers were furnished by high school pupils and Mrs. Reeve's orchestra which did admirable work. Miss Piersol was present to direct the community singing which seemed to take a new life under her guidance.

We are well pleased at the way musical talent is coming to the front in our school. We have a high school orchestra under the supervision of Mr. Jinks and one composed of the Seventh and Eighth grade pupils with Mrs. Reeves as instructress. Miss Piersol has given us encouragement in regard to our singers as well as our orchestras and we are hoping to have one of the best choruses in the county.

Miss Reeve Todd of Flora, Ind., is spending a few days with Miss Jinks before leaving for California. Miss Todd was formerly a teacher here.

CLASS NEWS

The Seniors are selling candy this year to help defray class expenses.

The Juniors are well satisfied with the returns from the Fair and wish to thank those present for their patronage.

The Sophomores have taken up Caesar-in-Gaul and seem to be enjoying it. They do not believe in riding ponies but prefer the surer, if slower plan of walking.

The Freshmen have elected their class officers. The following have been chosen: Gilbert Stevens president; Georgia Mock, vice president and Mary Marshall, secretary and treasurer.

HOMER SCHOOL

FRIEDA EDMONDSON, Editor O. for a Glee Club!

We, the Junior high school pupils have organized a Glee Club with our music supervisor, Mrs. Hack.

The boys and girls are getting the spirit of play. We had three new base balls and bats last week and we looked in every corner but we couldn't find a "house cat" in the building at recess periods.

The music supervisor, Miss Piersol, was with us Tuesday, September 30. She thought we were doing splendid work in music.

Four men were here Tuesday and gave the pupils of this school "Intelligence Tests" but we haven't received the record yet.

Newton T. Miller made a splendid speech on Fire Prevention at Manilla Friday night.

Wilbur Coppel, a member of the Seventh grade, was absent all week because of sickness.

The agriculture class went on an agricultural trip one day last week to study the quality of hogs.

The Domestic Science class has been planning a menu for breakfast in the last few sessions.

Because of remodeling of the Poundstone building, where I have been located, I have moved my office from 231 Morgan street to 207 W. Third street, just around the corner by the express office.

MAMIE FOUND BENEATH FLOOR

Leisure Woman, Who has Been Fugitive for Nearly a Year, in Jail Awaiting Sentence

CONVICTED OCT. 22, 1923

On Pretext That She Wanted To Change Clothes, Woman Attempts Getaway Again

Mamie Wewee Leisure, who has been a fugitive from justice for nearly a year, is back in jail, waiting her sentence to prison, following her capture Friday by officers who visited her home, and found her hidden beneath the floor.

The woman was tried in the circuit court here, October 22, 1923, and was charged with her brother, Allan Wewee, and Edward Cox, with encouraging delinquency on a young girl. The brother disappeared before the trial, and the woman and Cox stood trial before a jury. The jury convicted them, and gave them a sentence of 180 days.

The court gave them permission to go for a few days before passing the sentence, and on the morning of the appointed day, the woman disappeared, but Cox appeared and has served his term.

Officers made frequent trips to the residence this summer, after having been told that she was seen about the house. The house is located along the mill race back of the I & C. power plant. All attempts to find her failed, and the same report came in yesterday.

Chief of police Blackburn, Patrolman Havens and Frank Nicholson went to the place, and she came to the door when they knocked. She shut the door and said she was going to change clothes. In the meantime, the officers guarded the house on the outside, and one of them tried to open a window and went inside.

She had mysteriously disappeared, according to the police, who looked everywhere about the house, and could not find her, but they knew she had not left.

A search for a trap door, revealed one near a bed, and Frank Nicholson went down through the hole and forced her to come out of hiding. She was then placed in jail and will probably be sentenced either late today or Monday by Judge Sparks.

Her brother, Allan Wewee, who disappeared before the trial, is now serving a life sentence at the state prison, having been convicted in Richmond a few weeks ago on a similar charge.

SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE FOR TEACHERS MEETING

Rushville City Teachers to Attend, But Not Many of Townships Schools Will Close

OFFICIAL PROGRAMS READY

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Eight hundred children will take part in a physical training exhibition at the meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' Association here Oct. 16 to 18, it was announced today.

The exhibition will be given under the auspices of the physical education department of the Indianapolis public schools.

Complete and official programs have been completed by C. O. Williams, secretary of the association, for the meeting. General sessions begin Thursday night at Cadle Tabernacle, preceeding by parent-teacher meetings three days previously. The business session will be held Friday.

The Rushville public schools will be closed next Thursday and Friday to enable the teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' association.

It is not expected that many of the schools outside of Rushville will be dismissed because the county board of education decided at its October meeting that the question of closing the schools for two days was a matter for each township trustee to settle for himself.

DEMONSTRATION ON MONDAY

Fire Pumps will be Put in Use to Show Their Value

The demonstration with the fire pumps, as a part of the delayed program for fire prevention week, will be made Monday morning, according to Joe Williamson, fire chief.

The steam pump will be placed at the foot of Morgan street on the bank of the race, and it will pump water to the Seagraves pumper. In this way the water will be relayed, and people will be shown the value of having two or more pumping outfits in order to reach a fire at a long range from the mill race, and have a big pressure at the fire.

The exhibition will start about 9 o'clock Monday morning, according to present plans.

RAT KILLING SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Mayor Thomas Sets Aside October 11 to 18 For Campaign Under Young Woman's Auspices

AUTHORIZED BY U. S. BUREAU

Miss Helen Caldwell Plans to Canvass City and Does Work of Extermination Herself

Mayor Walter R. Thomas today issued a proclamation, designating October 11 to 18 as "Rat Killing Week" in Rushville and urging the citizens of the community to co-operate with Miss Helen Caldwell of Huntington W. Va., in her campaign to rid the city of rats. Miss Caldwell began the work of planning the campaign today and hopes to start the actual task of baiting buildings tonight.

The proclamation follows: "Whereas, it is estimated that a city the size of Rushville has approximately 12,000 rats, and that each rat costs the taxpayers the sum of $1.82 per year, making a total annual bill due to their presence in our city of $21,840 and

"Whereas the agricultural department of the United States has promulgated and recommended a plan for rat extermination as demonstrated by Miss Helen Caldwell

"Now, therefore I, Mayor Walter R. Thomas of the city of Rushville, Indiana, do hereby set aside a period of seven (7) days from October 11 to October 18, 1924, to be observed as rat killing days and request that the citizens co-operate in the observance of these days by use of barium carbonate or other means of effectually destroying these pests and saving ourselves the large amount which their depreciations cost us each year"

Dr. E. L. Wooden, city health commissioner, also has endorsed the plan of Miss Caldwell, and has issued a statement asking people to co-operate with her.

She started out this morning in the business district, and by the middle of next week, she will have made a complete canvass and expects to meet with much success in killing the rats in this city.

She does the work alone and distributes literature to persons who wish to continue the work after she has left.

Delegation Going to Indianapolis Monday Night for Address—Democrats in Indianapolis

DAVIS TO SPEAK TONIGHT

A number of republicans are planning to go to Indianapolis Monday evening to hear Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state in President Coolidge's cabinet, deliver a political address at the Cadle tabernacle.

The announcement that Mr. Hughes would speak was received here today and an urgent request sent for a large delegation from Rushville. Mr. Hughes is making only a limited number of speeches during the campaign.

It is expected that a number will go, as campaign speeches in Rushville will be few and far between. A meeting to be addressed by Ed Jackson, republican nominee for governor, and an address by Senator James E. Watson, the afternoon of the day before election at the Memorial park coliseum.

An exodus of democrats to Indianapolis this afternoon was predicted to hear John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, who speaks there tonight. He will speak in a number of Indiana cities.

COLLAR BONE IS BROKEN

Mrs. Richard Coers Injured in Automobile Accident

Mrs. Richard Coers, of the Waldron community, suffered a broken collar bone in an auto accident Thursday evening at a cross roads, near the McCauley school, three miles north of Waldron. The Coers machine figured in the collision with an auto driven by a man from Indianapolis, whose name was not learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Coers, with two other occupants in their car, were driving east on one road and the other auto was being driven north on the other road. Neither of the drivers were aware of the other's presence. The driver of the Indianapolis car suffered slight injuries to his head.

Mrs. Coers was taken to the home of Clem Severs, near the scene of the accident.

REVALUATION OF LAND PROBABLE

John J. Brown, Chairman of State Tax Board, Says Real Estate May Be Reassessed

FARMS WILL SHOW A LOSS

Decrease of $600,000,000 in Taxable Values Expected—Increase of $300,000,000 in Cities

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—It is probably that there would be a revaluation made on real estate in Indiana in 1925, John J. Brown, chairman of the state tax board, announced today.

This will be the first valuation made since 1922. It was indicated by some familiar with taxing conditions that the valuation of farm lands would show a decrease of approximately $600,000,000 below the figure for 1922 and that urban real estate would show an increase of approximately $300,000,000.

The net value of real estate in the 1922 assessment was $3,660,148,035. Brown said if a valuation were made that farm values would probably show a decrease and the value of real estate within cities would be increased. Of course, he said, some farms at the last assessment were appraised too high and some too low and value of these would have to be increased or decreased accordingly.

Industrial expansion and business expansion has had a tendency to increase the value of real estate within the cities, he said.

It was indicated that if there was a new valuation made next year the board would begin gathering data preliminary to it at the time the fourth quarterly session ends some time the latter part of December. Assessors would make the appraisements but they would have to receive instructions from the board as to how to proceed before they would start in on their work.

Brown said the board had not set rules as to how to make a basis for the valuations. An appraisement is sometimes made on the selling value of the property, sometimes on the income from the property or on some condition that applies only in individual peace of land or improvement.

QUARTERLY MEETING

The first quarterly meeting of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church will be held Sunday, November 2. Services are held at the church every Sunday.

TWO ARRESTS MADE IN STECH'S COURT

FORMER SETTLES CHARGE

Two arrests have been made in Justice Stech's court, one being an affidavit charging George Solomon with issuing a fraudulent check and the other against W. Everett Swain of Milroy, charged with assault and battery.

In the check case, the affidavit charges him with giving Walter Marshall of Blue Ridge a check without funds. When the warrant was served on him late yesterday by Frank Nicholson, constable, a settlement was made with another check, and judgment will be withheld if satisfactory to the parties.

In the other case against Mr. Swain of Milroy, the prosecuting witness is Toney Tompkins. Both are aged men and the affidavit was filed following a recent controversy. He was to appear sometime today and enter a plea.

Andrew Jackson is plaintiff in a suit against Cliff Brown, the action being on an account involving seed corn, and the demand is for $35. The case will be heard October 15, at 9 o'clock.

WIGGINS TO MAKE THIRD PLEA

Boxer to Try Again to Get out of Indiana Reformatory

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Charles E. "Chuck" Wiggins, professional boxer, will present his third plea in three years to the state pardon board Monday for his release from the Indiana Reformatory when he is serving time for escaping from the state farm.

This was announced today by Louis Brown, bondsman in the Indianapolis city court and brother-in-law of Wiggins who will present the argument. Wiggins was sentenced to the farm for contributing to the delinquency of a girl who lacked twenty days of being eighteen, the delinquency age limit, according to her testimony. Brown now has an affidavit from the woman that she was twenty at the time.

Wiggins was a trusty at the farm and had only a short time to serve when his alleged escape was made.

FINED FOR ASSAULT ON MAN

Nancy Hodgens, Colored, Retaliates With Charge Against Heaton

Nancy Hodgens was arraigned in police court Friday afternoon on a charge of provoke, preferred by Sanford Heaton, aged retired farmer, and she was found guilty and fined $1 and costs. In turn, she filed a similar charge against Heaton, and he will be tried next Wednesday.

The charge against the woman was preferred as the result of an alleged attack on Heaton last Saturday night, when he said three colored women crowded him, and one woman struck him with a broom.

AERIAL CIRCUS FLYER KILLED

R. E. Extiere, 27, Loses Life When Plane Crashes to Ground One Mile West of Brookville

AERIAL CIRCUS IS CALLED OFF

Pilot Loses Control of Plane While Flying Over West Fork of White-Water River

Brookville, Ind., Oct. 11—R. E. Extiere, age 27, stunt flyer with an aerial circus company, was killed instantly when the plane in which he was riding fell 250 feet to the ground at the flying field one mile west of Brookville at noon Friday. His neck was broken when the plane struck the ground. The pilot, Albert Hunter, was critically injured but may recover.

The crash occurred when the pilot lost control while flying over the west fork of the Whitewater river. Air conditions were said to be the cause. The plane was wrecked.

Extiere has been flying since he was 18 years old. He joined the circus aviation group at St. Louis three years ago and attended the air races at Dayton, Ohio.

The aviators came to Brookville last Sunday afternoon with three planes. They have been carrying passengers for an aerial circus to be staged today. Extiere was to do the principal flying stunts. The circus was called off.

One of the planes was not in good working condition and had been taken away for repairs before the accident occurred. Extiere and three other flyers were to take part in the circus with the two remaining planes.

Extiere's mother, Mrs. Effie Extiere, a widow, resides in Freeport, Illinois. Extiere was born in Texas. Funeral arrangements have not been made. His mother has been informed of the accident.

Members of the group of aviators, in addition to Extiere and Hunter, are two brothers of the latter, Bud Gurney and Herbert Budd.

It is understood that Extiere's wife resides in Dalton, Texas.

SPECIAL JUDGE ON BENCH

Hears Evidence This Morning in Fleechart Divorce Case

The divorce suit of Carrie Fleechart against Fred Fleechart was being heard today in the circuit court before Gates Ketchum, special judge and the action was being contested by the defendant.

The jury has been called for service Monday when the case of the First State bank of Newport against Frank R. Hale and others, will be tried. The suit is to collect $1,750 on a note, and was sent here from Shelby county on a change of venue.

Among the new suits filed is a complaint by Lenna Benson against Wilbur Gordon and others, the action being on a note, demanding $129.87.

OFFICIALS FROM ONTARIO IN CITY

Rushville Had Some Distinguished Visitors, But No One Knew They Were Here

Trying to Get a Close-Up on how Indiana Builds and Maintains Roads to Meet Traffic Demands

Rushville had some distinguished visitors for a short time this week, but no one knew it until they had departed. They were official representatives of the Canadian government, touring Indiana state roads to get a close-up on how this state builds and maintains highways to meet the demand for overland transportation.

The Canadian party was composed of Hon. F. G. Macdormid, who was minister of public works and highways until 1919; T. J. Mahoney, M. P.; A. N. Rankin, M. P. P., and J. M. Smith, M. P. P., and was sent by their government to obtain information as to the manner of road payment and management prevailing in a number of places in the United States. They elected to visit Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin as representatives of this nation.

The visitors are gathering data of a varied nature which they expect to set out in a detailed report to their government. They are traveling in a government car, and while in Indiana were shown all types of construction and maintenance and cost thereof. Their inspection led over the National Road to Dunsmuir, hence on 36 via Rushville to Greensburg and down to Madison on No. 1. They stopped one night at Clifty Falls State Park and marvelled at the work being done there by the state conservation department. New Albany and Jeffersonville was next on their itinerary and they returned to Indianapolis via Bedford, Bloomington and Martinsville. On the trip to Chicago, from where they go to Wisconsin, they inspected Indiana roads in Marion, Hamilton, Tipton, Howard, Clinton, Tippecanoe, Benton, Jasper, Porter, and Lake counties. A. H. Hinkle, state highway maintenance superintendent, accompanied the party on their tour through Wisconsin.

In the opinion of Canadian highway officials, trees not only beautify but protect a highway, so an intensive roadside tree planting campaign is on. The government pays the farmers $12.25 for each tree up and line both sides of the highway.

The visitors said their department uses practically the same equipment as Indiana, and pays its employees (Continued on Page Five)

JEMP C. NORRIS SUED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

Alleged he Paid Himself $325 More Money Than he Was Entitled to as Trustee

HIS BONDSMEN ARE NAMED

Demp C. Norris of Orange, former trustee of Orange township in Fayette county, has been sued with five of his bondsmen by attorney general, U. S. Lesh in the Fayette circuit court. The demand is for $400 judgment.

The attorney general alleges Norris, as trustee, issued warrants to himself for $325 more money than he was legally entitled to receive. According to the complaint the defendant was entitled to $600 as annual salary, $60 as office rental and $125 for miscellaneous expenses, totaling $785. Warrants issued, however, totaled $1110, it is alleged.

The sum of $325 was wrongfully received and retained, according to the complaint. Reports of the state examiners showed that the former trustee had received too much money and that he had failed to return it to the township, the complaint sets out.

Others defendants named in the complaint are Frank L. Coletrane, George H. Horton, Omer Hadley, Lewis Matney and George E. Heizer, bondsmen. Norris was elected trustee in 1918 and served four years.

Weekly Marketgram

(Bureau of Agricultural Economics United States Department of Agriculture)

Washington, Oct. 11—(For the week ending October 10, 1936)

Stocks and feeder shipments from 12 important markets during the week ending October 3 were: cattle and calves 134,512; hogs 6,815, sheep 190,070.

In eastern wholesale fresh meat markets beef is weak to $1.50 lower, veal $1 to $3 lower; lamb and mutton weak to $1 off and pork loins $1 to $2 higher.

October 10, prices good grade meats: beef $12.50 to $17; veal $16-$18; lamb $12 to 20; mutton $11 to $13; light pork loins $28-$31; heavy loins $19 to $25.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Potato market unsettled. N. Y. round whites about steady at $1.20 per 100 pounds in N. Y., mostly about $1.05 fob Rochester, Pennsylvania, sacked round whites 10¢ to 15¢ higher at $1.50 to $1.60 in Philadelphia and Baltimore. Maine bulk Green Mountains steady at $1.25 to $1.30 in N. Y.; 65¢ fob, Presque Isle, Northern sacked round whites 25 to 30¢ lower at 75 to 85¢ carlot sales in Chicago. 65 to 75¢ fob. Eastern Shore Virginia yellow varieties of Sweet Potatoes weakened in leading market to $3-$4.25 per barrel. Tennessee Nancy hails steady at $1.75 to $1.85 per bushel hamper in Chicago. New York Domestic type cabbage $5 to $6 lower in N. Y., irregular elsewhere, ranging mostly $12 to $15 bulk per ton in Eastern markets; $7 to $9 fob, Rochester, Onions nearly steady. New York and Midwestern yellow varieties $1.50 to $2 sacked per 100 pounds in consuming centers; $1.40 to $1.50 fob. Apple markets irregular. Bushel baskets of New York Wealthys steady to firm at $1.35 to $1.75 in City Markets, barreled stock weaker in New York at $4.50. Illinois and Missouri Jonathans slightly stronger at $7.50 to $8 per barrel in Chicago.

HAY—Timothy market generally firm on light receipts of good hay. Prices practically unchanged from last week. Alfalfa in good demand at steady prices. Considerable damp hay arriving at Kansas City and is slow sale. Prairie hay steady but movement easily sufficient for current demand.

Quoted October 1: No. 1 timothy Boston $27.50; New York $27; Pittsburgh $21.50; Cincinnati $19.50; Chicago $24; St. Louis $24.50; Kansas City $17; No. 1 alfalfa Kansas City $21.25 Omaha $17; No. 1 prairie K. City $11.50; Omaha $13; Chicago $16; St. Louis $16.50.

FEED—Feed markets very firm. Wheatfeeds firm especially the de-jobbers at about $1 per ton over jobs at about $1 per ton over prices they paid a few days ago. Linseed meal advanced apparently too rapid and prices now quoted cover wide range. Mills quoting 34 percent meal at $48 Minneapolis with resellers offering at $46.50. Production and movement most feeds good. Quoted October 10, Minneapolis spring bran $25; spring middlings $26.50; 34 percent linseed meal $47. Gluten feed Chicago $40.80; yellow hominy feed $40; 36 percent cottonseed meal $38; sixty percent digestor feeding tankage at various shipping markets $60.

GRAIN—Grain market sharply lower and gains early in week practically lost. An increase in the government estimate of spring wheat and a slowing up in the export demand principal weakening factor. Corn lower with wheat but still above last weeks close. Weather more favorable for crop but estimated, crop about 54,000,000 bushels lower than one month ago. Oats also lower as movement continues heavy. Cash demand all grains moderate.

Quoted October 10—No. 2 red winter wheat Chicago $1.52 to $1.54; St. Louis $1.54 to $1.59; Kansas City $1.53. No. 2 hard winter Chicago $1.46; St. Louis $1.45 to $1.47; K. C. $1.38 to $1.50. No. 2 mixed corn Chicago $1.14; Kansas City $1.09; No. 2 yellow corn Chicago $1.15; Kansas City $1.13; No. 3 yellow corn Chicago $1.13 to $1.14; St. Louis $1.16. No. 3 white corn Chicago $1.13 to $1.13; St. Louis $1.17; No. 3 white oats Chicago $21 to $23; St. Louis $4 to $5; Kansas City $21 to $3.

DAIRY PRODUCTS—Butter markets about steady. Somewhat better feeling in markets due to export outlook further small shipments have been made. Production decreasing somewhat but still heavy compared with last year. Storage withdrawal fairly heavy. Closing wholesale prices today on 92 score butter: NY 39; Chicago 37; Phila 38; Boston 38.

Cheese markets weakened during the week resulting in declines of about 11¢ on Wisconsin Cheese boards. Buying has been on a cautious basis and not much beyond immediate needs. Wholesale prices at Wisconsin primary markets October 9; Twins 19; single daisies 19; young Americas 19; longhorns 19; square prints 20.

COTTON—Average price of middling spot cotton in 10 designated spot markets declined 118 points during the week closing at 23.48¢ per pound.

NY October future contracts declined 139 points, closing at 24.50¢.

VOTERS TAKING INTEREST

Heavy Registration of This Year is Evidence of Increased Interest

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11.—The heavy registration this year is evidence of the intense interest voters are taking in the present state campaign, according to Russell Ryan, Democratic chairman of Marion county.

Although a part of the increased registration for 20,000 in the county is due to the increase in population, political headquarters of both parties see in the total registration of 191,944 in Marion county an unusual interest in the issues of the campaign.

Reports indicate the same increase in the counties where a full registration was held, while in those counties where only the new voters were required to register there was unusual activity in getting all eligibles out.

A record vote in the November election is predicted on the basis of the registration figures.

HUBBARD SQUASH SCARE

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 1.—Hubbard squash, a scare article in north central Indiana last winter, will be even more scarce during the coming winter due to unfavorable weather conditions last spring and the ravages of insects during the summer months. Hubbard squashes are now selling at five cents a pound and are to be found at only a few groceries in Kosciusko county.

Movies

Lots of Atmosphere

Atmosphere of the most picturesque nature is abundant in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the Sawyer-Lubin production for Metro, which is at the Princess Theatre again today. The great background of the Yukon, of course, plays a big part, but the opening scenes of the picture offer still more novelty in scene.

This section of the film is laid in the South Sea Isles, and shows the cabin of an old tramp steamer which has been turned into a cabaret by the stranded theatrical troupe of which Lou, as played by Barbara La Marr, is one of the leading members. The interior of the vessel presents a wild, exotic scene, with half-naked natives, gamblers, dancing girls, and adventurers of all types.

"The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was directed by Clarence Badger and personally supervised by Arthur H. Sawyer. Winifred Dunn wrote the scenario.

The first and the last—I am the first, and I am the last; and besides me there is no God. Is there a God besides me? yea, there is no God; I know not any. Isaiah 44: 6, 8.

Prayer—Lord, we believe that Thou hast created all things, and that in Thee all things exist, and we worship and adore Thee as the One True and Living God, beside Whom there is none else.

Nothing to Offer

That the third party movement, headed by LaFollette, has not made any progress during the past two weeks is due, no doubt, to the fact that the voters of the country have awakened to the fact that the third party has nothing to offer the people of the nation except the beginning of the destruction of all that the citizens of the country hold dear.

There is no doubt that those who love their country will this year cast a record vote. Individuals are not going to leave to chance the settling of this most important question. They are not going to take for granted that the other fellow is going to vote; they are going to vote themselves. They are going to put down once and for all a movement that would ultimately lead to a condition similar to that existing in Russia today, for there is a marked resemblance between the Soviet government and the things that the Socialistic ticket party candidate stands for.

It is believed by many that LaFollette is being given moral, if not other aid, by Trotsky and his followers. The women of the United States will never vote for a condition where a husband may secure a divorce for the trifling sum of three rubles and no cause. This strikes at the women and children of the country. Christian people don't live that way; neither do the men of the nation believe in that kind of government.

platform discloses the fact that it would take away from the people their protection in the courts. It would buy public ownership of railroads, which would mean over 3,000,000 additional office holders, the salaries of which the people of the country would have to pay in the shape of greatly increased taxes. That would be but the beginning of a material increase in the tax burden.

Our tax problem alone is sufficient reason for every citizen of voting age to exercise his judgment of public officials by casting a ballot on election day. Lowering of the cost of government, thus making possible successive tax cuts, is the surest means of relief for the voter and his family. Officials who can show a record of drastic economy should be continued in office. Those who cannot show reductions in expenditure should be displaced by others who will agree to a cutting of costs. But economy is assured only through the voters of the taxpayers.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—A new explanation of how Washington came to win the American League baseball championship emanates from Republican national headquarters.

The strength of the team and the prowess of its individual players, while they may have contributed something to the result, were not, it seems, the controlling factor. According to these G O P adherents "Coolidge luck" had to be credited with having brought the pennant to Washington.

Seemingly it was the spirit mysteriously instilled into the team by the way Coolidge threw out the ball on the opening game of the season that put it on its toes and enabled it to play championship ball Coolidge rather than "Bucky" Harris, the National's manager, should be recognized by loyal fans as the real great gazabo of the national game.

INVERSELY, it is claimed that the National's victory, through "Coolidge luck" is also another stroke of luck for Coolidge. By giving the president the chance to welcome the victorious team back to the capital, it gave him the chance to make the best speech of his career and one which probably was more widely read than any political utterance he ever made.

It gave him the chance to throw out the first ball in the opening game of the world series getting him bigger headlines and more publicity than any other single event of the campaign. That chance to have the center of the stage in the opening of the world series is an advantage which nothing Davis or La Follette can do can equal. By putting him in the picture as the "First Fan," it endears him to many thousands who are fans first, voters afterward.

Mixing His Poultry

A little boy started to school for the first time this fall and he was as proud as a peacock when he learned to spell a word.

"Oh, mother," he cried as he came home with the good news, "I know how to spell chicken."

"You do?" said the proud mother. "Well now how do you spell it?" "H-e-n" answered the youngster proudly, as his chest expanded several inches.

Too Much Piedouh

One Sunday morning a Rushville mother was very much worried because her little girl did not come home immediately after Sunday school. Finally, she arrived about noon.

"Where have you been?" asked anxious mother.

"I stayed for church," she answered.

"And did you act nice?"

"Yes, but I got too much piedouh."

Literally Speaking

A Rushville boy was motoring home from a Michigan lake where he had been for several weeks, and stopped with friends accompanying him at a town enroute for some refreshments.

He has a tantalizing desire to try something different. He saw a sign, "Try a September Morn" and he ordered one.

The waiter brought him a plain dish of ice cream.

"I didn't order that," the boy explained. "I want a 'September Morn'."

"That's what you got," she said.

"Nothing on it."

Broadcasting

If you are called to the telephone some night and asked to "listen in" on a radio concert just imagine that it might be something that happened not long ago when several people had such an experience.

"This is station XYZ, broadcasting a concert by the bland orchestra," said a voice at the other end of the line, and the people on the telephone got real interested.

If they could have seen as far as the other end of the line, they would have discovered that a phonograph, operated by a crowd of high school boys, was grinding out some of the late popular dance records.

Canary and All

When Frank Comella, former Italian shoe repairman of Rushville, and his family, were enroute to California to live, they conceived the idea

AT least that's the way the Coolidgeites in the capital figure it. They also maintain that Coolidge's speech of welcome to the returning ball team refutes all previous claim that he is lacking in a sense of humor, that he is no sport and that he is merely a cool unemotional intellectual machine.

Certainly the president attempted a lighter touch in his speech of welcome than is usual with him. He even asked a bit or attempted it, which was almost unheard of if his humor lacked punch it was perhaps due to his inexperience in turning a funny phrase, for certainly it was evident that he was trying to jazz the situation within the limits of presidential dignity and decorum.

COOLIDGE welcomed the team "as the head of an enterprise which conducts some business and maintains a considerable staff in this town." He said that he had hopes that with the conclusion of the world series "the people of Washington may gradually resume interest in the ordinary concerns of life."

So disrupted had government workers become during the closing weeks of the baseball season when Washington was still uncertain of the pennant the president said that "I contemplated action of a vigorously disciplinary character."

And he praised as "a correct constructive and statesmanlike program" the suggestion of Congressman John P. Miller of Seattle that a special session of Congress be convened at once, in order that congressmen would have an excuse to be in Washington at the time of the world series.

It is no exaggeration to say that the business of government has been sorely handicapped by the Washington baseball victory. Coolidge spoke more in truth than in jest when he said that:

The town has been simply tame ball crazy since about Sept. 18. From Coolidge down, the pennant race has held the center of interest for officials and workers. The election result, except for Coolidge, will not be half so important.

Importing British whisky into Berlin has been forbidden, so now more may be shipped to the United States.

Instead of checking their baggage at the station, while they went out to Canley's house during the two-hour stopover, they chartered a truck and went, bag and baggage, to the home of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Canley were somewhat alarmed at the prospect of a long visit when they saw trunks and everything being unloaded on their front porch, but they soon learned that it was only one way the Italian shoe cobbler had of expressing his delight at seeing them.

WABASH AT NOTRE DAME

With Four Stars on Sidelines, Little
Giants are not Hopeful—Butler
Meets Illinois

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 11—Hard and bitter battles were to be the order of the day in Indiana today as the football season went into its third week.

Some of the teams went into the fields crippled and short of men, others went in with the hope of great glory, while still others with uncertain strength depended on the outcome of the day to determine their standing in the grid field.

The teams are to be lined up as follows:

Indiana against Louisiana at Indianapolis. Illinois against Butler at Illinois.

Notre Dame against Wabash at South Bend.

Purdue against Rose Poly at Lafayette.

DePauw against Hanover at Greencastle.

Valparaiso against Albion at Valparaiso.

Great would be the glory for the Wabash eleven if they could repeat their victory over the Irish which they won back in 1905. But Coach

Rockne has unlimited man-power to draw upon and is training them for such teams as the Army, Princeton, and Nebraska.

But, although the little Giants will be on the defensive, their attacks are to be respected. Coach Vaughn arrived at South Bend with a squad of thirty men. Throughout the week he has been teaching his men individually the tactics of the Irish coach. Jack Singleton, star halfback; Captain Staples, Johnson, and Cords, of the Wabash team will have to sit at the sidelines during the game because of injuries. The game will be a test for the Notre Dame ends and the Wabash men have a sweeping interference that may be an important factor if permitted to be tried.

The Butler Bull Dogs bared their teeth to revenge their defeat last year from the Illini. They went over to Urbana to play the team that is said to be the best team in the Big Ten. They left here Thursday and held practice on the field at Urbana to become accustomed to the ground when the game starts. Many veterans have been retained in the Illinois camp. They have not only Grange who made all the running last year, and Britton who is showing up in the backfield in good shape. Indications pointed to the certainty that Purdue would walk over the Rose Poly eleven. The team that was rolling on by Indiana two weeks ago had to complete its lineup with three freshmen. The men have long study hours and school and have short hours for training. Coach Clark arrived at Lafayette with only sixteen men in uniform.

On the other hand, the Boiler Makers are considered by some to have the second best team in the state. Their defeat from Ohio state last week was caused from a lack of re-

Why Washington Won

(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 11—Washington's victory in the American League pennant race was one of the most popular ever scored in major league baseball. The club was a hot favorite as soon as it began to appear that the Senators had a chance to win the pennant, and the support that was shouted at the players all around the circuit had much to do in keeping the team in good spirits.

Walter Johnson said that the encouragement the team found in the realization that the fans in every city wanted them to beat out the Yankees serves but Coach Phelan since has been getting rid of that weakness. It is the view of Coach Ingram that the game with the team from Louisiana would end with a close score. Although the southerners' line outweighs that of the Hoosiers the Indiana backfield is heavier. In Coach Ingram's aggregation Temp Smith, quarter-back has removed scholastic barriers between him and eligibility and is back on the team. George Fisher has recovered from injuries early this season and is back in right position.

was one of the biggest factors that contributed to their success. The team certainly did win on spirit, and if the Yankees had been on their toes and fighting all the way, Washington might not have gotten into the world's series. Buck Harris, the 27-year-old manager, never let his head droop and he spread the same spirit among the whole team. It is interesting now to recall what Harris said when he was asked by the United Press to make a statement on what chances his team had to win the pennant. The club was in Cleveland for a most important series. Harris replied in a telegram to New York, the first paragraph of which read: "Washington has the best chance of winning the pennant race. No team in the league is fighting so hard for the flag. There is no suggestion of defeat from Walter Johnson down to the youngest rookie. We are going to win! That's all there is to it."

There is a sermon in that last line and if you are looking around for a reason why the team upset all calculations and won the pennant, look over that line and give it a little study.

Also look over the last paragraph of the statement which read:

"Walter Johnson will pitch the opening game of the world's series if our arms and legs and back and brains hold out. The Washington players are giving all they have every day to win. That spirit cannot be beaten."

Which recalls that famous war slogan which was hung on the dressing room wall at Princeton and which inspired a very ordinary football team to go out and win a championship. The sign hung up by Coach Bill Roper was: "A team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

Most Important Football Game in
Big Ten to be Played Today at
Iowa City, Iowa

BUCKEYES ARE FAVORITES

Chicago, Oct. 11—Ohio State, former champions of the midwestern football conference, meets Iowa, another recent title holder, in the most important Big Ten game today. It is to be played at Iowa City.

By virtue of its 7 to 0 victory over Purdue last Saturday and because Iowa's strength is unknown, the Buckeyes were slight favorites, but it was admitted the Iowa crew might meet Ohio's aerial attack with something equally good. The Hawkeyes have been training their defense for the Iowa forward passing game.

None of the other contests in the middle-west this week end are between conference rivals, the other Big Ten teams taking on "outside" eleven.

Brown comes to Chicago to meet Coach Stagg's Maroons in the first inter-sectional game of the season.

Minnesota meets the Haskell Indians at Minneapolis. Michigan takes on Michigan Aggies at Lansing; Illinois engages Butler at Urbana; Wisconsin faces Coe at Madison; Northwestern stands off the invasion of the University of Cincinnati; Louisiana comes to Indianapolis to meet Indiana; and Purdue engages Rose Poly Tech at Lafayette.

Notre Dame, most powerful non-conference team, has a game scheduled with Wabash to be played at South Bend.
